Summertime along the rippling Carmel River

It's summer and all the Valley is bedecked with forest green and filled with the laughter of children. Classroom days are forgotten, they are only part of a not-too-distant past, and all that lay before them is the gentle rushing of the Carmel River, hills to roll down, flowers to pick, and thoughts which belong only to them and their days spent in wonder. Barbara Wood takes the first summer plunge, as Maragret Yrigollen stands in preparation.

Plaza de Flores Fiesta to be colorful affair

The Plaza de Flores area in Carmel Valley Village will open with a colorful Fiesta on Saturday and Sunday, June 28 and 29.

The owners of the vacant property on Pilot Road and Del Fino Place have delightedly given their consent to their neighbors and friends in business on those two streets to grace their lots with flowering plum trees backed with the grey santolina yellow flowering shrub that is fire resistant and to plant flowers and vines in the area by the road side.

The Fiesta to commemorate the creation of this beauty spot in Carmel Valley Village promises a happy lively colorful weekend to one and all who come to add to the gaiety. You are particularly invited to come in costume depicting Early California Days and should wear walking shoes as this group of artisans whose idea the Plaza de Flores is will be having art-in-action shows — batik — block printing — silk screening — oil — water color — acrylic painting — copper enameling — plastic — as well as guest artists displaying their work.

All this every weekend thereafter to be known as the Plaza de Flores Design Workshop Walk Around.

For the Fiesta the Brattin Nursery will have a one man show and artists-in-action as will Dru Dunn's Keeping Room, Marzi Pottery, the Plaza Linda patio and Lou's Casa Carmela. A complete list of artists will be in the Outlook next week.

Flower arrangement students will be competing for prizes in a flower arranging contest at the Keeping Room where the entries will be on display. Children are already working on their entries in a children's art contest with entries to be hung in the Plaza de Flores and judged during the Fiesta with prizes given to those depicting the theme "Fiesta" in the most colorful way. All children are encouraged to be using the next week creating entries for the contest.

Fun entertainment at the Fiesta will be fashion shows displaying styles by five local designers with everything from non-woven fabrics to see-through fabrics and batiks in the most "today" styles.

The models will be showing fashions at the Keeping Room during the lunch hour from 1 to 2 p.m., at Lou's Casa Carmela during the cocktail hour — 5 to 6 p.m., and during the dinner hour at the Plaza Linda from 7 to 8 p.m. Carmel Valley designers Ruth Valpey, Dru Dunn, Laloa Trimble and Harry Conley and Big Sur's Jeangy will be the designers.

Linda and Jean Prejean will be strolling musicians in the Mexican manner from noon on during the Fiesta. Linda (Boblitt) and Jean are former members of the White Oaks Theatre cast. The Diaz family of the Plaza Linda will provide late evening entertainment with a program of flamenco dancers at their restaurant, making a full day of entertainment.

The Fiesta will begin with the dedication of the Community Christmas Tree to be planted at 11 a.m. on Saturday and will conclude with music late Sunday night. A complete program of events will be printed in the Outlook next week.

Bernice Huber, a member artist of the Carmel Valley Artists Co-op in Carmel Valley Village, will open a one-man show today at Lou's Casa Carmela. The show will hang for a month.

TURNING THE FIRST GROUND for the future and colorful planting of Pilot Road and Del Fino Place, to be known now at the "Plaza de Flores", Cecil McGowan steers his tractor over lots in preparation for the planting of some 20 flowering plants, innumerable fire resistant plants, daisies, oleander, ivy and other plants to line the Plaza. A "Fiesta de Flores" will kick off the opening of the Plaza Saturday and Sunday, June 28 and 29. Eileen Dufur Photo

THE TOWN CRIER

CHAMBER MUSIC SOCIETY elects new directors: At the annual meeting of Monterey Peninsula Chamber Music Society, the following new directors were elected: Vahe Aslanian, Louise Voeyer, Edward Hagg, Mauita Jennings, Frederick Schaad, Louis Rank, and Elinor Michaels.

THE BIG U-Haul truck was parked out front. A few were inside hurriedly and busily packing Ira's books, dismantling the curtains, and just moving things around. There was little laughter, although it really wasn't a sad occasion, as the Institute for the Study of Nonviolence, headed by Ira Sandperl and Joan Baez Harris (see Outlook, May 28), moved to Palo Alto.

Organized back in 1965 with some outcry from local residents, the Institute existed for the purpose of attempting to understand the nature of nonviolence and did not become the center for communal living and sin as it was feared by some.

THE CARMEL VALLEY LIONS CLUB received a beautiful trophy for their participation and win in the wild cow-milking contest at the Jaycee Rodeo at the Monterey Fairgrounds. Congratulations to Lions Richard McKenzie, James Gould, Charles Gansel and Richard Gaymar who worked so hard at the three performances. They even have the scars and bruises to prove it.

BIG SUR'S "magic numbers" on June 21 will begin with the prefix "667", according to Don Peters, PT&T manager at Monterey.

"At exactly 11:01 p.m. that day," said Peters, "the Big Sur telephone exchange will become part of the nationwide Direct Distance Dialing (DDD) system. That means for the first time, Big Sur subscribers can dial practically any number in the United States, Canada and some overseas points as well."

Conversely, Big Sur residents will be able to receive direct-dial calls from anywhere on the DDD network.

THE ELECTION on Tuesday climaxed one of the most colorful campaigns in the county's history. Our Tuesday afternoon press deadline precludes a report on its outcome this week. Details, when they have cooled off, next week.

THAT PICTURE in last week's Outlook, described as rubbish buring along the Carmel River, may have confused some readers. There was nothing wrong with it if you happened to turn your paper upside down and then looked at it. As we remarked recently, to err is human. We strive not to be too human, if that explains anything.

THAT CLOUDY WEATHER which persisted the couple weeks of June, quote is not unquote, unusual. Postmaster Sam Brandt is the authority; he has records on such things going back some 30 years to prove his point.

Do you remember....

TEN YEARS AGO.....

Carmelo 4-H member, Jennie Wolter, graduated "with honors" from Monterey Peninsula College and received a $200 scholarship from ToKalons, a women's club in Monterey. She went on to S.F. State.

Mary Prieth marked her tenth birthday with a party at the County Day School on June 4. It was a great occasion, since she received as a gift her first strand of pearls from her parents, the Ben Prieths, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C.S. Kent of Palo Alto.

FIVE YEARS AGO.....

Attending the elementary school graduation of their grand-daughter, Jacquie Wittman in San Ardo then, were Mr. and Mrs. Baxter Meyers.

ONE YEAR AGO.....

Ringo and George (you remember them) were seen with Joan Baez at the Encounter Cafe in the Carmel Valley Post Office block. It was too dark to tell if they were wearing anything particularly dashing.

Efficient work by the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Dept. held a blazing fire to the garage-servant quarters on the Charles Russell Ranch.

TO THE EDITOR

Carmel Valley Village Merchants & Citizens & Service Organizations:

The Village Committee has during the past three years planted a number of trees and shrubs in the Village areaand maintained them.

The money necessary to keep this type of civic improvement going has been on a voluntary donation basis — Note: This committee is a voluntary committee, there are no overhead expenses — all the money is used for beautification.

There are a number of projects hanging fire at this time waiting for new funds.

The Village Committee is the only organization specifically pledged to the beautification of the Carmel Valley Village. We need financial help now!

Please send your contributions to the Village Committee, c/o the Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce.

New control available for oak worm

"Fortunately for the health and beauty of Carmel Valley, a safe method of controlling the California Oak Worm is now available."

This statement was made by Ilbert Tucker, owner of Stone, Post & Flower, in explaining the importance of the recent availability of Bacillus Thuringiensis, a bacteria that infects and kills the California oak worm.

"This bacillus," Tucker went on to say, "eliminates the necessity to use dangerous chemical sprays to protect our beautiful oak trees. Chemical sprays, especially DDT and the other chlorinated hydrocarbons, leave poisonous residues that may affect for a long time not only the insect pests they are aimed at, but also beneficial insects, birds, fish and other wildlife. We may never know how much harm they have done to our Valley ecology. They have damaged our bird population. They have damaged our beneficial insect populations. Many people are concerned about danger to human life as well. Scientific and public opinion against these chemicals is finally beginning to bring about their control."

In contrast, Tucker went on to explain, Bacillus Thuringiensis is a very selective method of control that affects only the lepidoptera class of worms. The worm eats the leaves that have been sprayed with the spores of the bacillus; the bacteria infect the stomach of the worm and within one to seven days the pest is finished. This control has been used with success in New York City and many other places around the country. Bacillus Thuringiensis is available to pest control businesses through a distributor in Salinas; some of the local pest controllers have experience with it. Application is not as easy as with chemical sprays and it is a bit more expensive, so you will have to request it specially.

Stone, Post & Flower is a landscaping company that approaches its work from the perspective and considerations of the total environment.

Bach Festival Childrens Chorus Auditions

A Children's Chorus will be participating in the 1969 Carmel Bach Festival performances of the St. Matthew Passion by Johann Sebastian Bach. The dates of the two performances are Sunday afternoon, July 20 and Sunday afternoon, July 27.

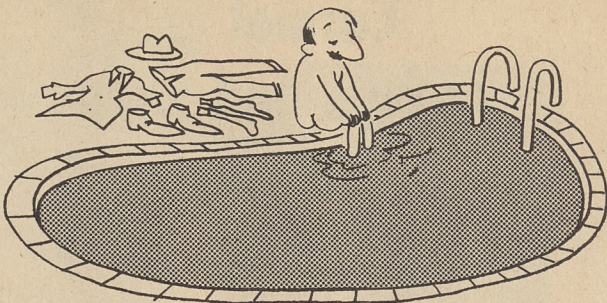

The rehearsal schedule will be available at the time of the audition. Your child should bring some music to the audition or come prepared to sing a song from memory.

Auditions for children from grades 5 through 8 are being held on Friday, June 20 at Bethlehem Lutheran Church, 800 Cass Street in Monterey. Please call Mrs. Michel MacKay at 624-3437 for an appointment.

PETUNIAS ARE CERTAIN PRIZEWINNERS. Cindy Shaffer already is planning how she'll spend her premium money she's so sure she has winning petunias at the coming Monterey County Fair growing in her planter boxes. While Cindy is mostly interested in flowers, there are dozens of different kinds of classes for exhibitors at the Aug. 6 through 10 event. She may even decide to whomp up a lemon pie for the culinary competition. The 1969 premium book lists all the classes in which exhibits may be entered. It's available from the administration building at the Monterey Fairgrounds.

A word about nude swimming.

The beautiful abandon of swimming in the raw is an experience of sensual, almost spiritual joy.

Do it alone, do it with the better half—but by all means, do it in an Anthony Pool. Because in an Anthony Pool the plaster is smooth, the lighting is at its flattering best, and the water is warm and safe from germs.

Anthony Pools is the world's largest swimming pool builder. Over 40,000 satisfied Anthony pool owners document Anthony's reputation for quality and reliability. Anthony Pools, building pools for nearly a quarter of a century, is the only pool company listed on the American and Pacific Coast Stock Exchanges. Write for all the bare facts.

Do you know how Queen Victoria's little Pekingese dog got its name "Lootie"? Not many of us know too much about the China of 1856-60, but I had a teacher who gave extra credit for knowledge we picked up concerning out of the way places, dates and happenings.

I got credit for discovering that the British and French warred with China in that era; that they took the Taku ports in the north and advanced upon Peking, burnt the summer palace in reprisal for the murder of prisoners by the Chinese. They looted the palace. Somewhere I learned that one of the trophies from the palace was a Pekinese dog, later presented to Queen Victoria, appropriately named "Lootie".

Chinese recipes were not part of the loot taken, but they would have been priceless today. The delicious sauces flavoured with soy bean oil, the noodles and pork, and the sweetened rice dishes add much to a modern menu.

So I appealed to the A.B. Calders, as he had been posted in China for many years in the civil service, while she had been and is now a gracious hostess and homemaker both in China and in Carmel, where they have retired. Mr. Calder was most informative. He told me, (1) Chow mein and chop suey are American dishes unknown in China. (2) The vegetables most used there are Bamboo shoots, water chestnuts and Lotus root, celery and onions are also used. (3) The Lotus root is obtained from the deep mud under lakes and ponds where the Lotus flower grows. This root is sliced and used in soups or as a vegetable. Bamboo shoots have been canned and are obtainable today in most American markets. I do not think this product comes from China. Soy bean oil is sold here also, probably not made as the Chinese make it. They crush the beans, then put them in a large barrel or crock and let them ferment. Then the oil is strained off and is ready for use. (4) Salt is little used in China, rarely appearing on the table. Soy bean oil takes its place. (5) Peanut oil is the oil used for frying, greasing, etc., in China. Peanuts are not much used for anything else. They are usually referred to as "ground nuts", a better description than "pea nuts". (6) Noodles are usually served as a must at Chinese meals, noodles with a slice of meat, usually pork, laid on top, not chopped up or cooked in the noodles. Now for a dish you can make with vegetables obtainable here:

CHOW YUK (Americanized)

1/2 lb. meat, flank, round steak or pork
Finger of fresh ginger root
1 tsp sugar, 1 pinch of salt
1 lb. vegetables (celery, bamboo shoots, green onions)
1 tbsp cornstarch

Cut meat into very thin strips against grain. Slightly mash ginger root. Mix with meat, soy sauce, sugar and salt. Allow to marinate for 30 minutes. During this time clean and cut vegetables in slices. Heat oil in heavy skillet, add the meat, turning often while it is browning. This should not take more than a few minutes. Remove meat. Add more oil if needed and turn in vegetables. Turn vegetables in hot oil for at least a minute. Add water to no more than 1/2 inch in pan. Cover and cook for five minutes. Thicken with mixture of water, cornstarch and soy sauce, stirring until smooth. Return meat to pan and stir until heated through. Pork will require a little more cooking. This serves four persons.

SHEUNG TONG (Consomme)

2 cups saved vegetable juices, or beef or chicken consomme
2-1/4 cups (No. 2 can) tomato juice
1 green onion sliced thin
3/4 cup thin-sliced raw veg. (cucumber, cauliflower, spinach)
1/2 cup dry white wine (or juice 1/2 lemon)

Combine the consomme and tomato juice, heat to boiling point. Put vegetables into heated bowl or tureen. Pour boiling consomme over vegetables. Add butter and wine. Serve immediately. Serves 6 persons.

DESSERTS in China are usually sweetened rice and dried fruits. Eight Precious Pudding: 3 tbsp rice, 1/2 tsp butter or margarine, 1/2 tsp salt, 1 quart milk, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 tsp cinnamon. Combine ingredients in double boiler and cook for 1 hour, stirring occasionally. Transfer to oiled pudding dish or baking pan and add 1/2 cup each, raisins, currants, chopped prunes. Cover dish and bake for 1 hour, then uncover to brown for a few minutes.

(with back to camera), and Elaine Washington. Standing, back to front: Todd Gayman, Jody Mink, and Sandra Lee. Blocked from view, seated, but there anyway are Cindy and Susie Wilson.

Pre-school Story Hour ends with a party

Sad occasions deserve parties-sometimes-as was the case of Sandra Lee, who celebrated her fourth birthday (which was a happy occasion) at the final meeting of the pre-school storyhour (which was a sad occasion) held at the Carmel Valley branch of the public library.

Sandra passed out balloons and cookies to the other children as part of the celebration-her birthday, that is.

The pre-school storyhour, conducted by Mrs. Louva Huntington, Children's Librarian, Monterey County Library has been a regular weekly activity at the Carmel Valley Library for the past school year. The storyhour has concluded its school-year round-up of enjoyable, literary entertainment and will reconvene in September after the summer vacation for all pre-school children from 3 to 5.

The club is organized by encouraged reading among children. Each child will take out a book, read it, return it and report on it to the librarian. For every two books read and reported on the child will receive a Peanuts character picture suitable for framing.

The 1969 Summer Reading Club, with the slogan "Happiness Is Reading" and called the "Snoopy Readers" began on Monday and continues for eight weeks, ending on August 8. All boys and girls interested in becoming one of "Snoopy's Readers" are invited to come to the library and get their "Happiness Card", otherwise widely known as a library card, if they don't already own one, and thus become a member of the club.

All libraries of Monterey County are participating in the reading club. The libraries are very fortunate to receive permission from Charles Shultz and the United Feature Syndicate, Inc. for use of the "Snoopy" theme, and to reprint pictures of the "Peanuts" characters for use in connection with "Snoopy's Readers".

Major Brill winsAir Force medal

Major Donald T. Brill, a former Carmel Valley resident, has been awarded the Air Force Commendation Medal for meritorious service as Chief of Information for the 349th Military Airlift Wing, Hamilton Air Force Base, California.

The citation accompanying this award said: "Major Brill acted in a highly professional manner as spokesman for the United States Air Force in handling a delicate situation. His actions in this matter earned him the praise of higher headquarters. Additionally, he developed a superior slide presentation of an aircrew mission to Southeast Asia which has been enthusiastically acclaimed by Air Force and civilian community audiences. His outstanding professional skill, knowledge and superior ability to plan, organize, and present a quality information program have significantly enhanced the mission effectiveness of the entire mobilized Wing. The distinctive accomplishments of Major Brill reflect credit upon himself and the United States Air Force." Major Brill, formerly with the Salinas General Office as Assistant Manager of the New York Life Monterey Sales Office, was called to active duty in January 1968 shortly after the North Korean seizure of the USS Pueblo. He is scheduled to be released from active duty January 25, 1970 and to return to New York Life at that time.

Major Brill, his wife Grace and their four children, Christine (16), Lisa (14), Donald Jr. (11) and Elizabeth (9), live at Hamilton AFB.

Bill Conlan has the winning spirit

The name Conlan is synonymous with athletics and youth. His name has become legend in the annals of Little League history on the Peninsula.

Bill has managed Little League teams for the last 15 years and one can't help but be awed as he develops and produces winning teams year after year. Bill has a formula that makes him not only an extraordinary manager but an outstanding person as well.

Bill was born in King City on May 26, 1931. Attended grammar school in King City and Salinas. Was graduated from Pacific Grove High School.

Bill's passion for sports started at an early age and has never diminished. He played football his first year in high school, but his real love was basketball and baseball, which he played throughout school and after.

His first experience with coaching came in junior college, 1950. He coached basketball and baseball at Sacred Heart Grammar School in Salinas.

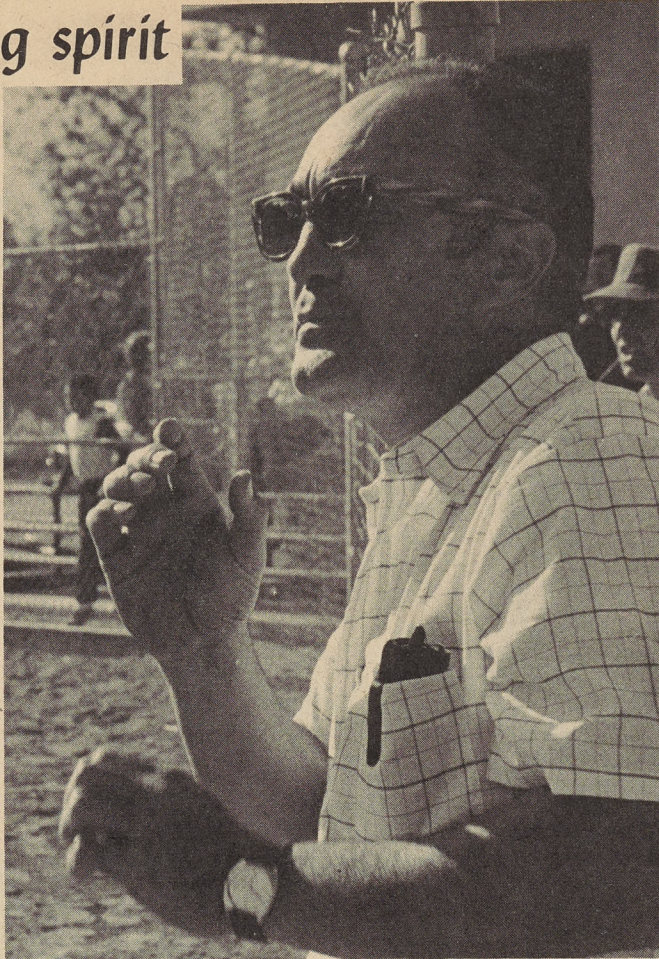

In 1951 he married Benita Updike in the Carmel Mission and together, over the years, begot and managed a home team of their own with Bill Jr., now 17, James, 16, Robert 14, and beautiful little Florence Ann, 4-1/2.

In 1953, he coached the Maris Van and Storage Little League team in Monterey. 1954 found him coaching a Babe Ruth team in Seaside. At the same time, God knows how, he was working full time for Ets-Hokin & Galvin as well as catching for the Rasmussen & Moody softball team.

In 1961 Bill and his family moved from Seaside into their newly built home in Carmel Valley. In 1962 he decided to go into business for himself and so became an electrical contractor. To friends and Valleyites, he is known as Conlan Electric. Being that he planned to spend some time in the Valley, he assumed the role of a Carmel Valley Volunteer Fireman, which he still is today.

It was at this time he also started his career in the Carmel Valley Little League. He adopted the Carpenters team.

In 1964 he managed the Carpenters and placed second after a tight 3-game playoff. In spite of this, he was asked to manage the All Stars team that year, accepted and went BILL CONLAN, Manager, C.V. Tigers on to win the area tournament. From 1965 thru 1968, the team he started with kept their first place standing.

In 1968 he decided to retire as his youngest boy, Bob, had graduated to the Babe Ruth ranks. He wanted to be a spectator for a change. This was short lived however, as he resumed managership with the Tigers this year. As he candidly put it, "I missed it too much; beside, I found that as a spectator, I criticized too much. I'd rather be involved. That way, the only one I can find to criticize is myself".

What are the ingredients that go into the making of a winning team? I questioned. He cupped his head in his hands and after a lengthy pause, replied, "I've never had to put my thoughts into words and it's a little difficult. I guess my feeling is, I never teach my boys anything I wouldn't do myself on the diamond. I believe in positive thinking and self-confidence.

I tell my boys they are the best, that we are number one. It's the opposing team that has to beat us. The team that makes the fewer mistakes is the team that wins.

"Consistency and repetition is essential. If I have to stay with one boy 20 minutes until he corrects a mistake, I will. As soon as he shows improvement, I'll pat him on the back. It's important to make the boys feel like they're really good. I try not to push them too hard. I take them step by step until they are ready for advanced play."

Do you have any definite "do-nots" in your strategy? I asked. "Yes, I do", he retorted. "I never allow my boys to criticize a teammate for making a mistake and encourage them to compliment each other when they've done something good. I don't like to put too much pressure on them. This can really hurt them.

"Something all of us should do is to stop and think, they're only kids from 9 thru 12. We can't expect them to do more than they're physically and mentally capable of. There is a tendency to overlook this as the season rolls on, and we get more serious and competitive."

Your relationship with the boys seems a very personal one, I commented.

"It is," he confessed, "I take the kids and their problems seriously."

I pursued his thoughts and asked him if he demanded more from his own sons, as they are all exceptionally good athletes. He said he had an established rule that all the kids were equal with no exceptions. He treats them all the same. This he said applied to age as well. If a boy is 9 or 12 and works hard and is good, he'll play.

At this point I asked how he developed the 9 year olds, that don't get too much game experience the first year. He said he tried to play all the boys in every game, even if it's only one inning. Most of the training is done at the practices. Another good way is while the games are in progress, it is an ideal time to talk to the boys on the bench and ask them questions as to what they would do in given situations.

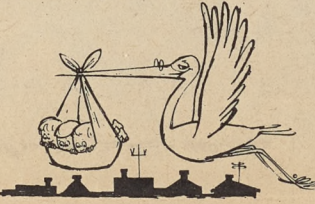

I approached Bill with the all-important question of what to his thinking was the most worthwhile thing about Little League.

With that familiar Conlan grin he answered, "Many things. It develops a love for sports and opens the door to future athletes, who in turn will meet interesting people and derive many satisfying experiences.

"It not only teaches kids the mechanics of baseball but they also learn to depend on their teammates. They come to realize that every boy has a responsibility to fulfill. In essence, having faith in one's teammates. It teaches compassion for others. It's easy to make excuses or to criticize others for mistakes. We are trying to help them discover that no excuses are necessary. There is nothing wrong with making a mistake.

"One thing I emphasize to the kids is that no one has the right to feel sorry for himself, because there are 12 other players depending on him. He can't do his best if he's feeling sorry for himself."

After pondering these viewpoints, I found it evident that Bill Conlan will always breed winning teams, because, he himself, is a winner.

end your ice follies.

Get a no frost refrigerator-freezer.

Nobody has to do the old song and dance with sloppy, melted ice anymore. Nor the pushing and shoving and chipping and cracking that went with defrosting... along with spills on the floor. So why do it?

New refrigerator-freezers don't form frost—anywhere. And with no frost, there's no defrosting chore. New thin-wall refrigerator-freezers provide more storage space in the same floor space—they're bigger inside but no bigger outside. And automatic ice-makers make ice tray bother a thing of the past.

See your dealer for a no frost refrigerator-freezer and end your ice follies forever. PG&E

Rivalry to resume at Rodeo

Tri-county rivalry will be resumed at the 1969 California Rodeo at Salinas, July 17-20, with the second running of Western races.

There will be one cowboy and one cowgirl race each day and they will be running in the spirit of the early West, when hands from one spread would challenge all others to see which had the fastest horse.

Entry into the races, which won great popularity last year, is confined to residents, or landowners of Monterey, San Benito, or Santa Cruz counties, or officially entered rodeo contestants, eighteen years of age or older.

No racing thoroughbred horses will be permitted and races will be run the opposite direction of the track. All entrants will form a line across the track and will be led by the starter to the turn where the race will start with a gun

Hearing on fence next Wednesday

A chain-link fence on Carmel Valley Road will be discussed at a hearing next Wednesday, June 25, before the Monterey County Planning Commission, in Salinas.

It is scheduled to start at 4:05 p.m.

The fence has been put up on property owned by the Quinn Company, about 2 miles east of the Village. The Upper Valley Advisory Board recommends that the fence come down, for esthetic reasons; the property owner has rejected the ruling.

If the decision of the Planning Commission is not acceptable to either side, the problem will have to be resolved by the board of supervisors.

MPVS assists local agencies

Two gifts to agencies on the Monterey Peninsula were voted by members of the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services at their regular monthly meeting held at Del Monte Lodge preceding the luncheon on June 6th, at which Mrs. Thurman H. Bane, president, presided.

A pledge of $1800 to assist the Family Service Agency in meeting its mortgage obligation is to be payable over a three-month period, as outlined by Mrs. Edwin C. Broome, Finance Chairman of MPVS.

Also granted was a request from Handicapped Activities, Unlimited, for the sum of $709 for materials to repair the roof of the building they own in Pacific Grove. These amounts represent proceeds from the Thrift Shop in Seaside operated by MPVS. Presentation of these grants was made by Mrs. Broome.

VALLEY'S highly successful weed show co-sponsored by Brattin Nurseries, Oleander Nurseries and the Keeping Room attracted a crowd of over 800.

Weed Show held at Brattin's Nursery.

Weed Show a huge success

The Weed Show held a weekend or so ago and sponsored as a three-part effort by Brattin Nurseries, Oleander Nurseries and the Keeping Room was a huge success.

Attendance was far above expectation in their desire to better acquaint the general public with the botanical names of the weeds in Carmel Valley, and also to show what inspiration they can be to those in the field of art expression.

Among the estimated 800 guests were such notables as Mrs. Elsa Uppman Knoll, editor of Sunset Magazine, and E.K. Balls, retired naturalist, collector and world recognized botanist specializing in world-wide collections for the Royal Horticultural Society of London and the University of California 20 years before coming to America.

With short notice, the entries in the 3-part drawing and painting contest using weeds as the theme, did not number as many as were hoped for; however, those who did contribute made judging most difficult.

First prize in the adult class was taken by Roberta Baird of Carmel for a Weed Collage on wood, while second prize was taken by Dick Crispo for his watercolor, with third prize going to Mrs. Morris of Pacific Grove for her black and white painted with actual weeds.

In the 7th through 12th grade division, Mary Giem of Carmel Valley took first place with her highly imaginative creation of graceful weeds embroidered on linen in soft, earthy colors. The second place prize was won by Thad Sigourney for his watercolor, with Mary Giem taking the third place prize also.

Mrs. Jan Durney of Monterey entered a special class she teaches at Marina Del Rey Elementary School as a group. Bringing in 16 entries, they included many flamboyant expressions in great color combinations and some most interesting interpretations of the actual plant form.

Valerie Keys won first prize in the 1st through 6th grade class, as a member of this group, with second place going to Alex Blevins, age 9, and in the fourth grade at Tularcitos for his beautifully executed black and white linen drawing, botanically perfect, of wild oats. Third place winner was Garth Hattan, and in the first grade also at Tularcitos.

Dru Dunne, owner of the Keeping Room and co-sponsor of the successful weed show, said that there is a prize for each entry in addition to the aforementioned which will be awarded when the owner-artists call for their work.

Thus the highly successful weed show, successful in the creativity of the contestant and also in the enjoyment had by those in attendance, ends for this year, but next year more weeds more contestants more fun!

Garden Thoughts by Salih Mehdy

of the Oleander Garden Shop

You often see in damp places in your garden small gray creatures up to 1/2 inch long. These are commonly called "pill-bugs". They roll their bodies into balls when touched and stay in that position for awhile until they think danger is over. Some, when touched, keep running for shelter and do not roll up, and they are called "sowbugs".

These animals do not belong to the insect world, but they belong to the Crustacea, such as also do crayfish and crabs. They have to live in damp places because they have gills by which to breathe. The female of the sowbug lays between 25 to 75 eggs in a pouch attached to her ventral side. The eggs stay for about two months and then hatch, and they remain in the pouch for some time. The hatched young ones resemble the mother except they are much smaller.

Both of these little creatures are scavengers; they eat dead organic matter. When this is lacking, they cause damage to your garden plants by eating roots and tender parts. They have sense enough to prefer juicy, sweet strawberries to dead organic matter when they are present. You can control them by bait or spray with "Sevin" or malathion and chlordane.

Do not let weeds rob your vegetables of water and minerals. Cultivate gently and often to scrape up small weed seedlings. Imagine that it takes between 200 and 500 lbs of water to produce one pound of dried weeds!

A mother frog decided to lay her eggs in our oriental pot water-garden arrangement. It is a simple garden composed of a potted horsetail reed plant submerged in the center, a few attractive rocks and colored glass floats. In the midst of this the eggs hatched, but the mother forgot her responsibility and we have to look after them; fish food is given to the numerous tadpoles now and then. They keep the water clear and devour any mosquito wigglers. Some of them have travelled to distant places — the last emigrants were four placed in a jar and taken by a happy youngster to San Francisco.

Do not rush for the nearest hoe or shovel to kill a snake with black and white markings around his body. This is the king snake and it is harmless. As a matter of fact, it does good by preying on mice and it is said to kill rattlers.

One of our gardeners in the Valley, Mr. LaFleur, passes on this tip: when you fill the basin around a fruit or shade tree, see if the water goes down very quickly. If such is the case, suspect that a gopher tunnel is underneath. You might water a tree generously, yet the soil containing the root system will remain dry; the gopher tunnel leads the water to another spot. Break into and fill such tunnels and runways with your shovel, and try to trap that gopher.

There is a brownish-black moldy-looking material which will paint your thumb greener. It is called HUMUS and should have a prominent place in your gardening conscience. When this material exists in your soil and is replenished now and then, your garden will take on verdant hues. How you get this is by incorporating organic matter in the soil, such as manure, leaf mold, peat moss, and material which comes from your compost pile. Gardening awakens in you the awareness of the reality of life. It is a cycle in harmony and conflict and out of this cycle beauty springs to be admired.

Flowering peach trees can also bear good, edible fruit. Two varieties are: "Saturn", with rose-pink flowers 2" across and red-shaded yellow fruits; and "Double Delight", with coral-pink fruit, a little sweeter than that of "Saturn".

It finally happened in our garden. On a twig of our large, fragrant honeysuckle vine, the tiniest nest was built. Two minute eggs were laid and a pair of humming-birds are raising a family. To watch them is a real thrill. Two small heads with relatively prominent bills are now above the rim of the nest. Parents and offspring are not frightened of people passing by at a close range.

Mrs. Jewett heads medical auxiliary

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Monterey-San Benito Counties Medical Societies held their final meeting of the year at Corral de Tierra Country Club.

Mayno Taeuber, conductor of the Monterey County Symphony, was the guest speaker. He spoke about his experiences as a conductor.

Mrs. James Farr of Salinas, chairman of the meeting, who was concluding her term as parliamentarian installed the following officers: Mmes. Darrell Jewett of Carmel Valley, president; Joseph P. Garvin of Salinas, president-elect; Takashi Hattori of Monterey, first vice-president; John R. Hays of Salinas, second vice-president; Francis T. O'Brien of Gonzales, secretary; Dale Buche of Carmel Valley, corresponding secretary; and William J. Keller of Salinas, treasurer.

In keeping with the mood of the day a musical theme was carried out for the installation procedure.

To resurface highway to King City

Motorists using Highway 101 between King City and Greenfield are advised that work began Monday morning on placing an asphalt concrete blanket on the existing pavement.

Bob Chapman, resident engineer for the State, cautions drivers that traffic will be restricted to one lane from time to time for the next 5 weeks. Restrictions will be during daylight hours only with none permitted on weekends.

The $310,000 contract will be supervised for Granite Construction Company by Gordon Berg. After the 9-1/2 miles of 4-lane blanket has been placed, plain and reflective raised pavement markers like those just installed between Greenfield and Salinas will be placed as part of the project.

'Fairy Queen' at Bach Festival

"The Fairy Queen", an adaptation of Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream", by Henry Purcell, will be presented Tuesday, July 22 at 8:30 p.m. in Sunset Auditorium as a highlight of the Carmel Bach Festival's 32nd annual summer season.

All ingredients which make for romantically exciting musical theatre will be present in this production. This "first" for the Bach Festival will be under the musical direction of Sandor Salgo with Charles Thomas of Carmel, stage director.

Soloists, chorus, dancers, actors and orchestra are involved in this production so characteristic of the 17th century English theatre in which music and drama are combined, yet remain separate. Among those participating in this performance will be vocal soloists Carole Bogard, Carole Burch, Larry Jarvis, Douglas Lawrence and James Schwabacher, all of whom have received acclaim from critics and audiences during past Carmel seasons, and Joanna Simon of the New York City Opera and Leo Goeke who made his debut last year with the New York City Opera and Little Orchestra Society.

Valley girls to help counsel at Camp Amigos

Several talented girls from Carmel and Carmel Valley will be among a group of high school counselors assisting with Camp Amigos this summer.

Selected on the basis of camping and swimming abilities and leadership potential were Lisa Slangerup, Susan Scoville and Mimi Haberfeld of Carmel Valley, and Jyl Porch, Jane Dyer, WendyAnne Schneider and Lyn Vandervort of Carmel.

They are among 19 high school boys and girls chosen by Camp Director Dan Albert and his wife, to help with the busy program of sports, cook-outs, field-trips, crafts and over-night camp-outs included in the Camp Amigos program.

All counselors will meet for an orientation session and barbecue dinner on Saturday, July 19, at the home of the Camp Amigos committee chairman, Mrs. Winthrop Griffith, 77 Rancho Road.

The camp will open July 21 on the grounds of the All Saints' Day School in Carmel Valley. Three one-week sessions are planned, running from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., with an overnight camp on Thursday nights.

For its fourth and final week, August 11-15, Camp Amigos will shift location to the Big Sur campgrounds owned by All Saints' Church.

There is still room available for each session. However, Mrs. Griffith has urged those interested to contact her immediately at 659-2586 to be sure of acceptance. The cost for the camp is $1.00 a week, which includes lunches, or $2.00 for the week at Big Sur, which includes all meals.

Mrs. Griffith also pointed out that the low fee covers cost of admission to the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center Pool, to Saddle Mountain Ranch and for a boating excursion on Monterey Bay.

The cost of the camp is kept low because of the broad community support this unique program has received. Latest to contribute funds is the Kiwanis Club of Carmel Valley. Other sponsors of Camp Amigos include the Monterey Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs, the Crosby Foundation, All Saints' Episcopal Church, St. Dunstan's Church, Carmel Presbyterian Church (on an individual donation basis) and the Carmel Mission, which is helping with food for one week of the camp.

The camp is open to any child, regardless of race or creed, who will be in the third, fourth, fifth or sixth grade in September.

Camp Amigos is a registered non-profit organization and contributions are tax deductible.

Many C.V. Scouts win awards at Court of Honor

Troop 127 of Carmel Valley held its Court of Honor at the Community Center in Carmel.

Gary Eldridge, Scoutmaster, welcomed the guests to the Court of Honor and explained briefly the purposes of the Court of Honor. Eldridge then introduced Joe Ricupero, chairman of the Adult Committee of Troop 127.

He expressed the thanks of the Adult Committee and the Scouts to Eldridge for the fine job he had done as scoutmaster for the troop. The work and function of the Adult Committee was explained and the members, Paul Neilsen, secretary; John Martin, treasurer; Manuel Mancebo and Frank Grover, were introduced.

Troop 127 is sponsored by the Carmel Valley Kiwanis Club. The president of the Kiwanis, George Clifford spoke briefly to the scouts. Charles Strathmeyer, who is in charge of Young Peoples Activities for the Kiwanis, was introduced.

Neilsen, outdoors activities chairman, invited fathers to be dinner guests of their sons at 7:00 p.m. at the Pinnacles on June 21.

Announcement was made that Troop 127 will have Campsite 11 at Pico Blanco.

Eldridge introduced the Candidate Scouts present. The Scouts who were to receive their Tenderfoot Badges took turns lighting the candles for the Court of Honor and explained the Scout Laws while lighting the candles. Tenderfoot Badges were awarded to: Ray Cornwall, Dan Curran, Mark Hansen, Greg Giordano, Kim Kvenild, Bob Lewis, Doug Meharry and Steve Savoldi.

The requirements for Advancement in Scouting were explained - Second Class Requirements were explained by Ron Neilsen; First Class Requirements were explained by Gary Ricupero; Star Requirements were explained by Peter Grover; Life Requirements were explained by Manuel Mancebo; Eagle Requirements were explained by Jeff Poulson.

Eldridge then introduced Mr. Dial, assistant scoutmaster. Dial officiated at the distribution of the Awards to the Scouts.

Second Class badges were awarded to Carl Black, Gary Eldridge, Ron Neilsen, Mark Olsen, Kim Kvenild, and Dan Petrie.

First Class Awards were presented to Bruce Eldridge, Scott Green, Peter Grover and Gary Ricupero.

Merit Badge Awards were presented to Jeff Poulson for Canoeing and Conservation of Natural Resources, Manuel Mancebo for Scholarship and for Cooking, Bruce Eldridge for Coin Collecting, Peter Grover for Dog Care and for Coin Collecting, Scott Green for Swimming.

What's doing?

I know you'll want to put tomorrow's telephone into your home when you see it. The sleek new Trimline® telephones fit in most anywhere. The streamlined receiver rests comfortably in the palm of your hand. The lighted dial is built right into it, with a handy recall button—so you can dial one call after another without reaching back to hang up. You have a choice of wall or desk models in a range of colors.

Like more information about the Trimline phone? Just call the girl that has the answers to all your questions about telephone service: your Service Representative, at the Monterey Business Office (375-1511). She can arrange Trimline installations for you, too.

You know, one book you can mark up 'til your heart's content is your telephone book. Next time you look up a number that you'll be wanting again, check or underline it. It'll be a lot easier to find the next time.

I am pleased to announce that on June 22nd, residents of the Monterey Peninsula will be able to dial residents of Big Sur directly. The old community dial office has been replaced, and with the aid of a new switching machine it will no longer be necessary to place calls through the operator.

Due to the central office change, each customer in Big Sur has received a new telephone number. Should you need the number, it will be available by dialing Directory Assistance (411).

Big Sur customers will, for the first time, enjoy modern dial services such as Direct Distance Dialing and Directory Assistance. It will no longer be necessary for calls to or from Big Sur to go through the operator.

Musical 'Ernest in Love' to brighten Studio next

"Ernest In Love", the musical version of Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest," starts the summer season at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant in Carmel on Thursday, June 26. To the supremely witty original dialogue, author Anne Crosswell and composer Lee Lockriss have added a dozen sparkling songs that give a new dimension to an old favorite.

The well-known plot concerns two Victorian dandies, Jack and Algernon, who must each be christened Ernest in order to wed Gwendolen and Cecily. The imperious Lady Bracknell is another obstacle to true love until Miss Prism and the Reverend Chasuble supply the vital information that speeds a happy ending.

In the musical adaptation, the two manservants, Lane and Perkins, and the two maids, Alice and Effie, round out the cast.

Enhancing the sly humor of the lines are songs like "A Wicked Man", "You Can't Make Love", and the show-stopper duet between Jack and Lady Bracknell, "A Handbag Is Not A Proper Mother."

When "Ernest In Love" opened its successful off-Broadway run to glowing reviews nine years ago, New York Times critic Brooks Atkinson called the book and lyrics clever and the music "deft and droll," while Judith Crist credited it with "all the charm and pleasure of a spring bouquet."

Under the direction of Charles Thomas, "Ernest In Love" will play at the Studio nightly except Monday and Tuesday from June 26 through August 2. Reservations for dinner and show or show alone for all performances may be made at 624-1661 or 624-2321.

Swimming lessons begin at pools

Swimming lessons for students and residents of the Carmel Unified School District will begin on Monday at the Carmel Valley Community Pool and the Carmel High School Pool.

Classes will be held in the following areas: Red Cross Beginners, Advanced Beginners, Intermediates, and Swimmers as well as Beginning, Intermediate and Advanced diving classes. The lessons will begin at 9:00, 9:40, 10:20 and 11:00 with vacancies open in all classes. There will be a $4 registration fee and those wishing to participate in the classes should register at the Carmel High School or the Valley Pool.

A swim team, sponsored by the recreation department, will practise for those 12 years and younger at 10:00 at both pools, and for those 13 years and older at 4:00 at both pools. Students interested should contact either Jim Fosnot at the Valley Pool or Bryan Morton at the High School pool.

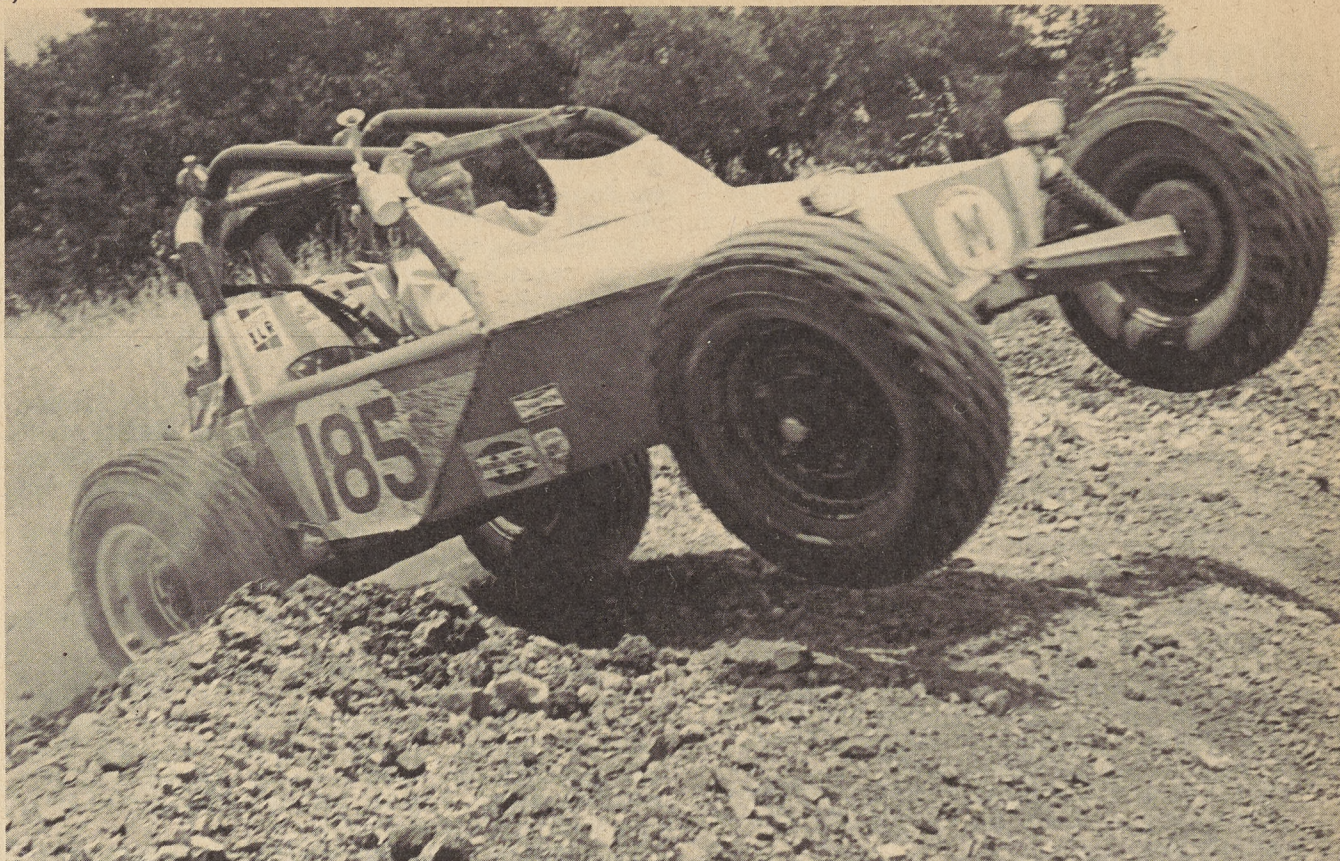

Evening classes will be held in Junior and Senior High Life Saving Classes, as well as adult swim classes and those interested should pre-register at the Carmel Recreation Department (624-3342). Fifteen registrants are needed for each class.

Book Fair slated for July 10

The Annual Book Fair of All Saints' Church will be held Thursday, July 10 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Parish Hall at Lincoln and 9th, Carmel.

This popular event for book lovers and collectors will have as its theme the California Bicentennial. California posters and pictures will be displayed, and there will be a special table of Californiana books and prints for sale. There will also be the offerings of books in all categories, records, music, prints and collectors' magazines.

Donations of any of these items may be taken to the parish office or call 372-9267 or 372-7248 for pick-up service or assistance. Co-chairmen of the Fair are Mrs. Donald Taugher and Mrs. Alfred Cooper.

STEVE ALLAIRE putting the "Wampus-kitty" through its paces. Steve Allaire and Steve Nutoncich placed 13th in their class and 35th overall out of almost 200 cars entered in last week's Baja 500 in this VW powered dune-buggy — very well since it was their first attempt at off-road racing. They both plan to enter in the Baja 1000 in the fall. (Photograph by Tom Hagn)

Swim Club sets tryouts for next week

The Cypress Swim Club will hold tryouts for new members next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, between 5:30 and 6:00 p.m. at the Carmel Valley Community Pool on Ford Road. Swimmers should be between the ages of 8 and 16, and should have passed the Red Cross intermediate swimmer's test or its equivalent.

Further information on the training program of the award-winning AAU competitive synchronized swimming team may be procured by calling the coach, Donn Squire, at 659-2446 any evening.

Golden West Morgan Horse Show coming

America's first horse breed, the Morgan, will be the central attraction at the Golden West National Morgan Horse Show at the Fairgrounds in Monterey during the July 4th weekend. The 3-day show will feature some of the outstanding Morgans in the West.

Among the planned events are English and Western Pleasure Classes, Pleasure and Park Driving, In-Hand Classes, Carriage and Costume Classes, Jumpers — to mention a few.

To show silk-screening process

For those interested, the process of silk-screening will be shown without charge at the Neighborhood Center, 280 Dickman St., Monterey on Saturday afternoon.

A film, produced by Ullano, a manufacturer of silk-screen supplies, will be shown by R. Riddell, of Bernadelli Square.

Classes will begin after July 7 at the Village Art Center on the silk-screen process.

'Sweet Charity' to play next at Circle Theatre

"Sweet Charity", the eighteen month long Broadway musical hit, will open a summer season of musical theatre June 27 at the Circle Theatre, Carmel, as a presentation of the Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula, Inc.

This tuneful tale of a gallant born loser is coming here with impressive credentials. It is an adaptation from "Nights of Cabiria", one of the most esteemed Italian films from the hand of that world-famed master, Federico Fellini, and its adaptation was made by the most highly reputed American playwright of the 1960's, Neil Simon, author of such hits as "Barefoot in the Park" and "The Odd Couple".

Its songs, alternating between easy bouncing tunes and the compelling beats of modern jazz are the work of composer Cy Coleman and lyricist Dorothy Fields, whose witty words have been in so many Broadway and Hollywood musicals, including "Annie Get Your Gun", "Something for the Boys", and "Redhead".

"Sweet Charity" is the story of Charity Hope Valentine, an incorrigibly romantic dance hall hostess, who picks herself up every time she is tossed aside by a heel she has fallen in love with. At every corner she tries to find a good man who will take her out of the dance hall and put her into a kitchen.

A spirited set of songs and dances accompanies Charity's indefatigable search for romance. One of the best known songs is the "Big Spender" number, a rowdy sinuous plea made by the dance hall girls. Others are Charity's strutting song "If My Friends Could See Me Now", and her song of determination to escape from the tawdry ballroom called "There's Gotta Be Something Better Than This."

One of the most celebrated song numbers in the show is a Bach-like modern jazz round, "The Rhythm of Life", that turns up as Charity visits an open air "church" devoted to the rituals of unwashed, reefer-happy worshippers dedicated to music with a powerful beat.

Zelma Weinfield is directing this funny, razzle-dazzle musical, with Dale Lefler creating the expressive dances, and Tom Fordham in charge of musical direction.

"Sweet Charity" will play Wednesdays through Sundays, alternating weekly through Labor Day with "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty", which is scheduled to open July 11th.

Reservations and group discount bookings may be made now by calling the theatre box office at 624-2669.

Auxiliary to hold plant sale

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Carmel Valley Fire Department will hold a plant sale on Saturday, July 19, in the lot next to the Grapevine in the Village. The flea market, which was scheduled for that weekend, has been postponed until September.

The auxiliary is still collecting for the flea market. If anyone has items to donate to the sale they may leave small articles at the General Store. Large items will be picked up and stored by Rosemary Roberts by calling 659-2322.

SEVERAL (FORMER!) FRIENDS of Carmel Valley Lions Club members were awakened from sound sleep recently by delegates from the local group who after attending the Lions Club convention at Hoberg's with 548 delegates and their wives, found the quiet of Carmel Valley nights not conducive to sleep and wanted a little convention chaos simulated under their windows so that they could get to sleep!

Representing the Valley were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hitchcock, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bordonaro, Cmdr. (ret.) and Mrs. William Stowers, Mr. and Mrs. Art Fosso, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Black, Mr. and Mrs. William Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Glod, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Dufur, Mr. and Mrs. Mal Tavares, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Bolgard, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gansel, Mr. and Mrs. Dick McKenzie, and Peter Baxter.

The Valley contingent manned hospital rooms for their candidate.....won an achievement award on their scrapbook.....had the Valley's usual uncanny luck claiming door prizes. Final count: Virginia Bordonaro, two, and one each to Ruth Stowers, Ora Todd, Gretchen Glod, Eileen Dufur and Doreen McKenzie. As in the past the two pieces of Marzi's Monterey Jade contributed by the local club delighted the lucky winners.....Attended the husband and wife barbecue.....the professional show.....the champagne "Cheers or Tears" Party on Saturday night.....stopped traffic with their costumes. All wore shirts and dresses of matching pink and maroon roseprint to carry out the "Wine and Roses Ball" theme. The ladies wore pink shoes, pink hose, and garters mounted with pictures of their candidate. The men wore hats with an Australian roll and medallions with pictures of their candidate. Bill Stowers, Mal Tavares, and Tom Bordonaro added another dapper touch, pink shoes and socks!.....Collected a fourth place award in the talent show for their skit, "Anatomy Awards For Dubious Achievement."

Rae Black in a micro-mini skirt presented the award envelopes to "Big-Sur Peter" played by Peter Baxter in an authentic 1850 British Commodore's coat. Bill Stowers was the off-stage voice and in charge of the theme songs which for Rae were: "Breakfast at Tiffany's: Stripper", Peter, "Mad Dogs and Englishmen", and "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing" for Aristotol Obnoxious played by Mal Tavares! Chief Engineer for Senator Bickell to stop oil leak in Santa Barbara was Tom Bordonaro whose number was "Beautiful Dreamer".

Exhibitionist of the year award went to "Tiny Dick" McKenzie complete with wig, ukelele, and a bouquet of red roses presented by Doreen in a tulip costume. Dick stopped the show running up and down the aisles with his version of "Tiptoe Thru The Tulips!" Last but not least was the club president, Lloyd Todd appearing in cowboy hat, levis and boots as "BLJ", patriot of the year. He was awarded a heart for valor to the tune of "It Aint Necessarily So!".....Climaxed their convention with the election of a new District Governor, Claris Burns of Gonzales, who has been in Lionism for 22 years.

AN "OLD OAK LEAF CLUSTER" to the Associated Chemical Seeds Company of Salinas who donated fertilizer for the Little League Field.....to Walt Mausey who painted the league fence and the score booth.....and to Mrs. Edith Brattin who donated potted succulents from Brattin's Nursery to the 83 second and third grade students in the classes of Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Bellemans and Mrs. Venturilli for favors at their end of the year party.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SERVICE in underdeveloped nations with special emphasis to the role of the United Nations was the subject of Laurence Horan's speech when he appeared before the Monterey Chapter of the United Nations Association of the USA. The Valley-ite is a former Peace Corps director in Central and Latin America.

BETTY HANCPOL invited half a dozen of her friends to celebrate her new status as a teenager last weekend at the West Carmel Valley Road home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hancpol. A pizza supper preceded a slumber party for the thirteen year old. On Saturday, Bobbie packed sack lunches for her daughter and guests and took them to the beach for the day. Attending were Marilyn Aldrich, Laura Sherman, Ann Springer, Lydia Bresk, Vicki McBride and Debbie Brook.

MR. AND MRS. MAURY NESSEL of Lilac Lane have had recent houseguests from Aurora, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. William M. Mann, Helen's cousin, Bill, and his wife accepted an invitation for their first visit to California only to see the Peninsula and spend a weekend in San Francisco with the Nesses under our chilliest weather conditions made all the more noticeable following their month in Arizona.

THREE FRIENDS born under the sign of Gemini were the reason for a party on Valle Vista co-hosted by Mary Thystrup and Kathy Sherman. Harriet Busick, Charity Crane and Bill Conlan all believed that they were coming to celebrate another's birthday only to learn that the party had been planned for all three who were born in May.

Party fare included ham and chicken prepared by Mary and Hap Thystrup and potluck dishes contributed by their guests. The garage was decorated with balloons, party streamers and colored lights for dancing. On the patio, guests enjoyed the guitars and singing of Vickie Scardina and Roger Sherman. Others enjoying the celebration were Charlene and Don Koontz, Larry Busick, Louise and Bill Neidinger, Linda Sherman, Didi and Art Harber, Sal O'Campo, Joan and David Morris, Pete Scardina, Ruth and Rex Pryer, Gardner Schetter, Doris and John Mark, Dick Crane, Allen Harber and Billy Conlan.

THERE WERE INDIANS along the Cachagua again last weekend.....only these were members of the Little League Farm Team. With their families, the ball team was invited to a barbecue at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Clark. Jim, coach of the Indians who are now in first place in the race for the pennant, and his wife, Pam, were assisted by Rick Hoiburg, assistant coach. Highlight of the day was a Father-Son game. All records of the game have mysteriously disappeared but 'tis rumored that the boys chalked up a decisive victory!

Special guests were three families who have a perfect game attendance and who have been in the stands every single game - the Larry Cisneros family, the Floyd Hoiburg family, and the Larry Bailey family. Other families attending were Mr. and Mrs. Brad McFarland, Mr. and Mrs. David Allard, Cmdr. and Mrs. John Furmanski, Mr. and Mrs. George Lockwood, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Stauffer, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Klein, Mrs. Don Sweiss, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Eldridge, and the Indians manager and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Richard McKenzie.

HANS SMITH was elected to serve a second term as president of the active youth group at the St. Philip's Lutheran Church. Serving with Hans as officers of the Luther League are Dan Bretheim, vice president; Laura Nystrom, secretary; and Barry Moore, treasurer. Completing their terms in office were Debbie Nystrom, vice president; Sue Moore, secretary; and Chris Smith, treasurer. Rev. J. Bernhard Bretheim, pastor, confirmed six members of the church who were Eric Smith, Ann Hawkins, JoAnn Bretheim, Laura Nystrom, Kimball Banker and Barry Moore.

PARISO PARK was the scene of a joint birthday party for Jeff Mink and Steve Allard who celebrate a day apart and who have been close chums for all of their nine years. Accompanied by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Allard and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Mink, the boys drove into Monterey for the festivities. Accepting invitations were Joe Reimer, Anthony Grissom, Greg Thigpen, Andrew Lockwood, Ronnie Gayman, David Simpson, David McKenzie, Larry Cummings, Scott Thigpen, Gordon White, and George Lockwood.

WANT TO KNOW what bait will catch a 12-inch, pound and a half rainbow trout on the June Lake Loop?.....Worms and Marshmallows, according to Bessie Waylett who with husband, Donald, recently enjoyed the ultra beauty of some of California's high lakes and remote camping sites. The Valley couple left their Valle Vista home in a camper-pickup and drove down 101 to visit Don's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Peterson in San Bernardino. Swinging north they visited Lake Tahoe, June Lake, Silver Lake, Mono Lake, Lake Elmadore, Oraville Dam and took the Feather River Drive. In some spots the snow was so high that they either were unable to drive in or else had to shovel out a camp site. Bessie took along pounds of birdseed and cultivated among other feathered friends the mountain bluebirds at Lake Davis and orioles on the June Lake Loop. Now about that bait.....there are a few skeptics numbered among the Wayletts friends so this time Don took a picture of Bessie AND the fish. This week when they picked up their developed pictures they discovered the only fish picture that ever got away! It was a great shot of Bessie, but the fish had been cut out!

WHILE THE HORNETS AND CUBS, thought to be the two teams who were main contenders for the Farm Team trophy, jockeyed for first place, the Indians turned into a powerful tribe with enough scalps hanging from their belts to put them in first place in the Minor League.

Coached by Jim Clark and Rick Hoiburg and managed by Dick McKenzie, the boys now have three wins and one loss. Sponsors of the mighty warriors are the C.V. Kiwanis.

The Hornets and Cubs are tied for 2nd place with 3 wins and 2 losses each.

Scores of games since last reported are:

May 26...Cubs, 18, Pirates 5; May 28...Hornets 10, Indians 0; May 31...Cubs 2, Hornets 8; May 31...Pirates 6, Indians 11; June 2...Hornets 11, Pirates 2; June 4...Indians 12, Cubs 2; June 7...Pirates 4, Cubs 13; June 7...Indians 10, Hornets 1; June 9...Hornets 6, Cubs 8.

The Pirates trail at the bottom of the League with four losses and no wins.

GIRLS FROM CARMEL VALLEY, Santa Cruz, Marina, Seaside, LaMesa, Pacific Grove, Carmel and Monterey gathered under the sycamore trees at the Trail and Saddle Club Grounds to receive awards earned by them during the past year at the annual Grand Council Fire.

The fire, artistically decorated with boughs and cones, had been laid by the group from the Valley who call themselves Tanda and are led by Mrs. Rex Pryer. Girls in this group receiving their Trail Seeker Rank and a three-year National Membership Honor were Lori Davis, Jill Janic, Clare Martin, Nancy Pryer, and Laura Sherman. Rank awards were also presented to Leslie Bussinger, Natasha Granoff, Winifred Reuter and Stella Wallace.

"This Little Camp Fire Light of Mine" was sung for the large audience of families and friends by the Valley Wi-Ca-Ka Camp Fire Group whose leader is Mrs. Cleve Harris. Trail Seeker rank and three year national membership pins were awarded to the following Wi-Ca-Ka girls: Gloria Bottaro, Susan Groves, Vicki Harber, Robin Harris, Mary Jane Hermanson, Renayda Wolfe and Lisa Viljoen. Linda McGlochlin had completed her rank.

The Ma-Ka-We Group led by Mrs. Gordon Harlander, wearing their ceremonial gowns which had been made by the girls, led the processional and lit the ceremonial fire with their torches. These girls were recipients of Wood Gatherer Ranks and three year pins: Cindy Harlander, Katherine Belleci, Karin Lucas, Melody Mancebo, Nikki Nedeff and Laura Valpey.

Songs and the "Johnny-On-The-Spot" awards were presented by Valley Bluebird groups, Poppy and Sunshine Faces led by Mrs. Patricia DeAmaral and Mrs. Erasimo Belleci. Participating were Susan Angier, Marit Arana, Christine Belleci, Cathy Collins, M'Liz DeAmaral, Elizabeth Kern, Marian Murphy, Fawn Nicholson, Pam Cross, Mary Jane Reuter, Anna Vanderveen, Scarlett Hattan, Annette Bottaro, Laurie Busick, Cynthia Platter, Gladys Zarazua, Sharon Hogan, Angie Howlan and Colleen Feeney.

AN OLD FASHIONED "Ice Cream Social" will be held at the Community Chapel Fellowship Hall on Saturday, June 29, between 3:00 and 7:00 p.m. The public is invited to attend with their entire families. There will be three flavors of ice cream with a choice of three toppings if you prefer sundaes. Also a large selection of homemade cakes, pies, and cookies.

Mrs. Cliff Bolgard and Mrs. Norman Bundgard are in charge of the social evening and cordially invite EVERYONE to attend.

Accident delays newspaper delivery

An accident on Live Oak Lane, off of Rancho Road, was the reason most people in the Village area received their Sunday San Francisco Chronicle late.

A vehicle operated by Tom Randall of Monterey, loaded with papers, hit a tree at 4:05 a.m. He sustained chest injuries, and Olga Randall, riding with him, received possible internal injuries and a fractured skull.

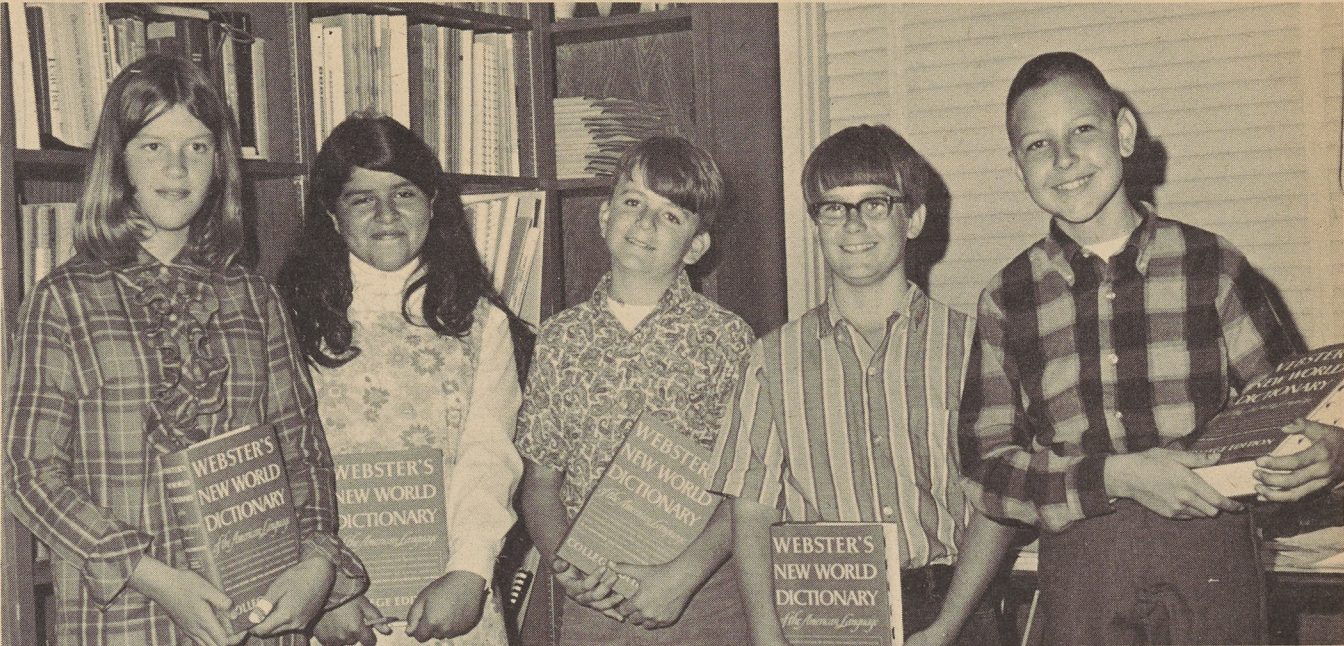

Both were taken to Community Hospital by the First Aid Crew of the C.V. Fire Department.

The crew also gave assistance to Douglas Jeffreys, East Carmel Valley Road, at the Plaza Linda Restaurant last Wednesday evening; he had difficulty breathing.

The only fire call received involved a minor blaze in an auto Friday evening on Paso Hondo; wiring under the seat had shorted, causing about $50 damage.

Valley Lions to install officers

The installation dinner of the new officers of the Carmel Valley Lions will be held on Saturday at the Monterey Elks Lodge, 150 Mar Vista Dr., in Monterey. Installation officer for this meeting will be Past District Governor Lion Louis Mammini, with International Counsellor Lion Tony August officiating at the Special Awards Presentation.

DICTIONARIES were awarded Heidi Viljoen, Blanca Zarazua, Richard Dubbs, Steven Littlewood, and Bernd Lucas by the C. V. Kiwanis Club. These dictionaries were awarded on the basis of scholarship, leadership and citizenship.

NOTE FROM EDITOR

This year has helped many students realize what school is and can be.

Many plays put on with the help of Miss Cathy Westmoreland. Also it has helped to show students that science can be helpful as well as fun with the help of Herb Rueter.

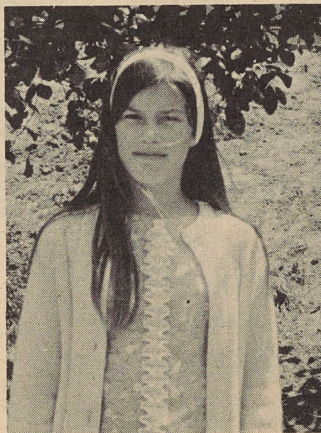

It has given me a chance to print issues of the school paper and see the fun and work of it.
— Bernd Lucas

SPECIAL NOTICES

OH SAY HAVE YOU HEARD?
The Keeping Room is serving breakfast to eat in our sunny garden! Try double rich El Salvadore coffee, thick orange juice, then fresh mushroom scrambled omelette with canadian bacon with our hot home made bread right out of the oven.
OR cowboy scramble: eggs with cream, potatoes, or-tegas pepper, onions, bacon, OR French pancake piled with strawberries & sour creme then rolled and powdered with sugar.

For the bird-type breakfast: hot homemade raisin lemon/orange spice bread with slathers of butter melting all over and orange juice and coffee, tea, or milk, or cocoa. OR hot baked apple dumpling with spiced whipped cream, each with coffee & juice.

Served from 8 to 11 daily.
The Keeping Room is planted between Brattin &
Oleander Nurseries, 6 Pilot
Rd., Plaza de Flores, Carmel Valley Village. 6-18

So You

have plans all made for vacation? Just a few reminders —

How about suntan preparations and an after the sun moisturizer? Don't forget your shower cap.
Does your cosmetic bag
look shabby? (Elizabeth Arden's travel kit is all ready to go.) Then there's travel size hair spray.
L'Oreal even makes a purse size spray with six refills.

Wash 'n Dri tissues are a travel necessity.

Tuck in an Eaton's Let-terquette for those quick notes to friends.

And please don't forget your toothbrush, your hair-brush, and above all, any medication you may need.
Happy Holiday!
